How to be a natural leader

This course shows you the intuitive skills that natural leaders have and it teaches you how to understand what they are, how to develop them and how to use them just as a natural leader would. Natural leaders empower others in meaningful, quantifiable ways. They recognise the needs of everyone in their team and communicate the big picture in a manner that ensures each employee sees how the role he/she plays makes a contribution to the final result. Natural leaders have the same five habits that extraordinarily successful people have and they are visionaries. Marisa will show you exactly what natural leaders do and the behaviours that you can implement to become a natural leader and to recognise and nurture other natural leaders.

The Five Habits of Incredibly Successful People

First you make your habits and then your habits make you. Some people seem to have success in every area of their life. Professionally, personally and emotionally. They may have had multiple, different businesses but everything that they are involved with is successful. Having been a top therapist for many years with clients ranging from superstars to Olympic athletes to leading CEOs, Marisa was fortunate enough to discover and then to research what it was that her most successful clients had in common. She then compiled this knowledge into five habits that extraordinarily successful people all share. Marisa teaches corporations and start-ups that once you recognise and adapt these five habits into your life, you simply cannot fail to be successful. Audiences are surprised at how easy and straightforward some of these habits and techniques are.
How to Run Your Brain for Phenomenal Success

Collaboration is vital to success in the business world and during this course Marisa shows you that the most important collaboration skill you need is the ability to collaborate with yourself. We are led to believe that the mind is very complicated and takes hard work and effort to both understand and change. In fact you only need to know four things about your mind in order to have it do whatever you want and to give you the success and happiness you desire. By ensuring that the dialogue between you and your mind is accurate and precise you are able to get what you want from life. Marisa teaches you these four mental habits in a way that absolutely makes sense and can be put into practice instantly.

Marisa Peer’s exciting and award-winning training method will teach you how to become an outstanding and successful hypnotherapist, psychotherapist, coach and counsellor.

Rapid Transformational Therapy (RTT) is a solution-orientated therapy that is both fast and highly effective.

It is different from conventional therapy, which focuses on how the client feels over long, drawn-out sessions, because it gets to the root of the problem and solves it within one to three sessions.

Marisa’s course is different because she sees therapy in a new way. Having spent over thirty years developing her technique, which is renowned as life-changing and dynamic and spoken of in superlatives, Marisa believes that many courses do not match the fast world we live in. People want quick results and ‘RTT’ enables clients to overcome their issues within a minimal number of sessions, rather than over a course of ten or more appointments, which amounts to more than 30 hours of their free time.

Marisa believes in offering her clients a fast and effective solution and the course will teach you to do the same. With Marisa’s guidance you will become a therapist who is in high demand because you are known for your efficiency and swift results.

Within two years of it being launched, Rapid Transformational Therapy won 11 awards in just six months because of its effectiveness and its revolutionary transformational techniques. There are now RTT therapists all over the world getting the same results for their clients as Marisa.

“I don't know how to thank you for the change you’ve made in my life, I’d give you a piece of my heart or soul, because if it wasn’t for you, neither of those would be here.” – Tarmi Kaokula

“That little phrase on my mirror, in lipstick, now dusty from not being cleaned, seems to have helped. I just left it there and see it every single day, sometimes wonder what it means...but let me please let you know...just one word comes to mind FREEDOM!” – Gabriele

“Thank you Marisa. You broke me open...into caring about my dear little self. That's a BIGGY!” – Gabriele

“I instantly felt the weight of anxiety and feeling unsafe drop from me as the hypnosis progressed, and I know today marks a new phase in my life.” – Renate

“So today he [her 7yr old son] got back from school and started to tell what happened to him. He was in class and they made a holiday journal. While doing that, he was sitting with a group, and one of the kids told him, he should write something offensive and in return for that he would give him money. The others in the group started to cheer that my son had to do it. My son started to write in the journal; I am enough and told the bully to write it himself! I can't tell you how proud and grateful I am!” – Ellen
